ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM

The topic of the congress is a challenging one. Numerous books and articles have been published on when, why and how Pierre de Coubertin (1863 – 1937) has developed his vision of what has become popularly known as the Olympic Idea today. There is a lack of research on the evaluation of today's meaning and impact of Coubertin's Olympic vision and even more so for the future development of the Olympic Movement and Olympic sport. It is attempted to close this research gap at the symposium with speakers whose academic expertise in research on Coubertin and the Olympic Movement is well known internationally.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Congress venue

The Congress will take place at The Olympic Museum in Lausanne (Switzerland), which will be reopened in December 2013 after a 20-month transformation, bringing it firmly into the 21st century. The public will be offered a new experience, an invitation to explore the history, legacy, dreams, challenges and values which have helped to make the Olympic Movement what it is today.

How to get there

The Olympic Museum is located in Ouchy, in the southern part of Lausanne, on the shores of Lake Geneva. It is conveniently accessible by public transport: Metro M2, bus lines 8 and 25.
